

Patmore Ash

Fraxinus pennsylvanica 'Patmore'

Description

This seedless cultivar of native green ash develops an elliptical crown, more uniform and symmetrical than some other cultivars. Extremely hardy, it has shown no disease and only minor insect problems. A COPF selection, it's an excellent choice for street use. Rarely or never fed on by Japanese beetles.

Attributes

Height

50-60'

Spread

35'

Shape

Upright branching with an oval head

Foliage

Shiny green

Fall Foliage

Yellow

Exposure

Full Sun

Zone

2-7